Information and

I am currently studying Information and Communications at Manchester Metropolitan University. My ambitions are to progress through into the IT Industry when I graduate.

Key skills

Communication

During a placement in a primary school I was able to communicate with different members of staff and students. Where I had to explain to the staff and students the activities that I will be working with them. I had to teach them scratch, which is a coding program for the younger generation. The students understood they need to accomplish because I guided them through if they needed any help.

Team working

I am good at team working as during my projects at University I was able to tell other members of my team what they need to do. I was able to support the people in my team if they needed any guidance. I had to work in a team for my University assignments, this I really enjoyed because the team was able to show leadership skills towards each other as we shared out the workload and ideas.

Employment

I am currently working at Tesco as a checkout operator.

Work Experience

I have taken part in different activities over the years. At college I helped out with presentation evenings where I had to escort the parents through the theatre and answer any questions. I have also taken part in a work experience with the IT technicians at college which I enjoyed helping them with numerous activities.

At University I have taken part in a coding club scheme where I had to teach scratch to primary school children.
